Statements Confirmed By Audit Company, Is Claim of Riggs Bank

Firm Issues Statement Discounting Indictment of Its Officials and Intimating That Action Was Expected, Immediately After Hearing of Jury's Action.

Immediately after announcement was made today at the courthouse that three officials of the Riggs Bank had been indicted for perjury, a statement was issued at the bank explaining from the standpoint of the indicted officials of the bank, the meaning of the action taken by the grand jury. The action of the jury had been expected by the bank officials, and, as the statement shows, has been discounted by them.

A feature of the statement is that in view of the charges made by the Government as a result of the affidavit on which the indictments for perjury are based, the directors of the bank appointed a committee which, in turn, hired an audit company to investigate every one of the stock dealing transactions which the Government claims had been made by the bank itself, and the report of this audit company, as given in the statement, is to the effect that each and every stock transaction has been traced, and that each and every one was made for the account of some customer of the bank.

The statement issued on behalf of the indicted officials and the bank is in full as follows:

STATEMENT OF RIGGS BANK.

"The indictments grow out of a controversy regarding the technical construction of the phraseology of an affidavit filed in the course of the argument in the pending suit of the Riggs National Bank against officers of the Government. This proceeding does not concern any money or other property of the bank and is entirely personal to the officers signing the affidavits.

"On a purely technical construction of the wording of the affidavit, by which neither the court nor any one else was deceived, and without any charge involving loss or injury to the property or business of the bank, this long-throated action is taken at the instance of the Government, and, contrary to what is understood to be the usual course in such cases, the directors of the bank against the Government officials is pending.

"To facilitate its depositors and customers in making their investments, it was the habit of the Riggs National Bank to attend to the execution of orders received directly from the officers acting in his individual capacity as a member of the Washington Stock Exchange, or otherwise. These orders were upon a cash basis and not upon margin. As the transaction was conducted upon the order and for the account of a particular depositor, the bank was not concerned with the individual, in the current course of business, the execution of these orders were reported by the bank to the board of directors, and no order or transaction was ever made by the bank for its own benefit or profit, but invariably for and in behalf of others.

"The fact that the bank cleared orders of this nature for depositors and to every bank examining passing upon the Federal reserve law came into effect the bank had not accepted any orders of this nature, and the practice referred to ceased, and is no longer in operation. These facts are stated to make it clear that there never was any order of this nature, and to make it clear that the bank was not concerned with the individual, in the current course of business, the execution of these orders were reported by the bank to the board of directors, and no order or transaction was ever made by the bank for its own benefit or profit, but invariably for and in behalf of others.

Four Indictments in All.

In all four indictments were returned by the grand jury. One indictment covered the three bank officials jointly. Separate indictments were drawn by the District Attorney and presented, naming each officer individually.

The indictments are practically identical, but the District Attorney determined to ask for individual as well as a joint indictment.

For the offense of perjury the District code provides that the punishment shall be imprisonment for not less than two years nor more than ten years.

The penalty code the offense of perjury, punishable by a fine of not more than $2,000 and imprisonment for not more than five years.

Covers Eight Pages.

The indictment covers more than eight typewritten pages. Much of this matter is a review of the claims made by the bank against the Government, and the bank's own statement of its business, which was filed with the Treasury Department in 1912.

It is said that the accused bank officials will give bond promptly tomorrow, and that the Government will not move for a writ of habeas corpus until the criminal case comes to trial.

Offshoot of Civil Suit.

The indictment of the Riggs Bank officials is an offshoot of the civil suit instituted by the bank against the Treasury Department heads who were charged with "persecuting" the bank, and of illegally withholding certain interest due on its bonds.

LOCAL AND N. Y. FINANCIAL NEWS

Irregularity Follows, With Steel Common Soaring to New High Lead.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Irregularity in price levels, brought about by heavy realization in certain of the specialties which have recently commanded such high figures, prevailed on the stock market today.

The United States Steel, rising to 8 1/2, or the highest point that it has held since 1911, was heavily dealt in and served to check in large measure what promised at the opening to be a realization market of large proportions. Steel preferred also rose to the highest point at which it has sold since 1912.

Several of the independent steel stocks likewise enjoyed substantial gains. Bethlehem was up 3 points at 36 1/2, and Stone-Island, at 6 1/2, was up 1 1/2 points.

Following Steel, the equipment issues were exceptionally strong. New York Air Brake advanced 4 1/2 points above yesterday's close to 12 1/2; Westinghouse was up 4 points; American Car Foundry 1 1/2; and Railway Steel Springs had an early gain of similar proportions, but eased off before noon.

With the exception of Inspiration, which made a high of 10 1/2, the copper group did not manifest the strength which gave it prominence yesterday.

The railroad list was practically neglected.
